Our products are designed to protect crops from pests, diseases, and weeds, helping farmers to produce healthy and abundant harvests. We also offer a variety of services to help farmers get the most out of our products, including technical support, training, and application advice.

Our Products

Agchem Bioscience offers a wide range of crop protection products, including:

- Herbicides: Our herbicides control weeds, which can compete with crops for water, nutrients, and sunlight. We offer a variety of herbicides to target specific weeds, including broadleaf weeds, grassy weeds, and sedges.
- Insecticides: Our insecticides control insects, which can damage crops by feeding on them or transmitting diseases. We offer a variety of insecticides to target specific insects, including aphids, beetles, caterpillars, and flies.
- Fungicides: Our fungicides control fungi, which can cause diseases in crops. We offer a variety of fungicides to target specific diseases, including powdery mildew, rust, and blight.
- Seed treatments: Our seed treatments protect seeds from pests and diseases, giving them a head start on life. We offer a variety of seed treatments to target specific pests and diseases, including seed-borne diseases, soil-borne diseases, and insects.

Our Services

In addition to our products, Agchem Bioscience offers a variety of services to help farmers get the most out of our products, including:

- Technical support: Our technical support team is available to answer your questions about our products and how to use them effectively. We can provide advice on product selection, application rates, and timing.

- Training: We offer a variety of training programs to help farmers learn how to use our products safely and effectively. Our training programs cover a variety of topics, including product safety, application techniques, and pest and disease identification.
- Application advice: Our application advice team can help you develop a customized application plan for your farm. We can provide advice on the best application rates, timing, and equipment for your specific needs.
